MR. GOLDEN QUIZZED.

Ex-Governor John Young Brown Cross Examines Witness.

EXCUSED ON ACCOUNT OF ILLNESS.

Murder Conspiracy Case In Progress at Frankfort Was Not Resumed During Morning Hours Owing to His Condition.

Frankfort, Ky., March 26.—Judge Moore called his court to order promptly at 10 a. m. to resume the trial of Republican Secretary of State Caleb Powers, charged with being an accessory to the murder of Governor Goebel. Wharton Golden, one of the prosecution's star witnesses, who finished his direct examination Saturday, but was taken sick and unable to be cross-examined was the first witness called, but was not in the court room, and a deputy sheriff was sent to the hotel after him. While the sheriff went after the witness Powers shook hands and talked to his friends.

County Attorney Polsgrove, at 11 a. m., announced that Golden was ill, but that the doctor thought he would be able to appear at 1 p. m., and asked the court to adjourn court until that hour, which was done.

Court convened at 1 p. m. and Golden was immediately placed on the stand and the cross-examination commenced, with ex-Governor Brown interrogating the witness. Golden said he learned about two weeks ago that he would be arrested if he did not tell what he knew about the assassination, and if he did the attorneys for the commonwealth would try and save him from prosecution.

Thomas Cromwell, who swore out the warrant against Powers, was the first person he talked to about the assassination. Cromwell had been to the mountains and heard that he was connected in some way with the murderer, and sent for him. Golden told Powers of his conversation with Cromwell and told him (Powers) that he wanted to get away from the state house, and he got a leave of absence from Republican Assistant Adjutant General Dixon and left.

Golden said he told Judge Fleming of Winchester that he intended to tell all he knew about the affair. While he was in Winchester he said he was stopped by two men, Dr. Foster and William Steele, who grabbed him by the arms and cursed him for exposing the Republican party. Golden replied that he had not exposed the party.

Governor Brown asked him if he had told the two men that he knew nothing about the affair. Golden said he might have told them that as he would have said anything they wanted him to. Governor Brown asked him if he made a habit of saying anything a person desired, to which the witness responded: "Not when I am on equal terms with them."

Colonel Campbell, for the prosecution objected to the way Governor Brown was questioning the witness. While the question was being argued, Golden asked to be excused for a few minutes, as he said he was growing weak, and was taken out of the court room by a deputy sheriff.

Golden resumed testifying a little after 2 p. m. He said he could not remember that he ever heard Powers say that he intended to harm anyone. Dick Combs, the alleged assassin, was brought to Frankfort, he said, by William Culton, one of the defendants. Culton told him that he had brought him (Combs) down.

The witness said that when he heard on his way to Louisville, with Powers, that Governor Goebel had been shot, he told Powers what had happened, and Powers said that it was a dirty shame and outrage. When asked about the man who was given the key the morning Goebel was killed, Golden said he did not know his name, but could recognize him anywhere. He said he saw him here Saturday, and Governor Brown asked him to get up and see if he was in the room. Golden looked carefully over the large crowd, but said he did not see him, and took his seat.

Ready For Arrest.
Corbin, Ky., March 26.—Captain Robert Noaks, for whom it is reported a warrant has been issued charging completely in the Goebel assassination, writes T. Campus of this place that he is at Norfolk, Va., attending to his duties as conductor and ready to be arrested whenever proper officers come after him with a warrant.

Louisville, March 26.—Governor Taylor left here for Frankfort. He spent the day in consultation with his personal friends, but nothing of general interest regarding these conferences has transpired.

CLOSED ITS DOORS.

Cashier of Rutland National Bank Arrested For Using Funds.

Rutland, Vt., March 26.—The Merchants' National bank closed its doors, and the cashier, Charles W. Mussey, is under arrest, charged with the misappropriation of the funds of the bank. The exact amount of the shortage will not be known until after a thorough examination of the bank's books has been completed.

Following is the synopsis of the report of the condition of the bank made to the comptroller of the currency under the call of Feb. 13, 1900: Liabilities, capital, $100,000; surplus and profits, $3,383; due to depositors, banks and bankers, $351,549; circulation, $21,870. Resources, loans and discounts, $351,363; other assets, including cash, $115,438. Bank Examiner D. D. Muir has been appointed temporary receiver.

The shortage of Cashier Mussey of the Merchants' bank amounts to $145,000.

The cashier having left the state, but was arrested in Albany, N. Y.

To Remove an Official.

St. Louis, March 26.—The February grand jury in its official report submitted in Justice Speer's court recommends that Supply Commissioner Frederick C. Mier be removed from office, and that proceedings be instituted in court to reimburse the city for money alleged to have been diverted through mismanagement of the commissioner's office. It also recommends an investigation by the mayor into certain charges against Judge George B. Sidner of the First district police court. The report says that an indictment has been found against some one connected with the supply commissioner's office, but the name is withheld.

Day's Retirement.

Washington, March 26.—President McKinley will approve this week the application for retirement made by Rear Admiral J. F. Day, president of the retiring board, and that officer will retire with the rank of senior rear admiral. Rear Admiral McCormack was retired Saturday. The two vacancies thus created have further limited the number open to officers desirous of voluntarily retiring in accordance with the provisions of the naval personnel law. Only two officers of the grade of captain and one officer of the grade of commander stand any chance of having their applications granted.

Returned to Cleveland.

Cleveland, March 26.—President James O'Connell of the Machinists' international union returned to Cleveland. He stated that he had not seen or communicated with the officials of the National Metal association. President O'Connell said that the question as to whether a general strike of machinists would take place on April 1 was still undecided. "In Chicago," he said, "the situation is very encouraging for us."

Advance For Miners.

Altoona, Pa., March 26.—The Altoona Coal and Coke company, the Henrietta Coal Mining company and the Frugality Coal and Coke company, all of this city, have notified their miners of a general advance in wages of per cent, to take effect April 1. The increase is voluntarily and will benefit 5,000 miners.

New Incorporations.

Columbus, O., March 26.—Brockway, Allen and Burnett company, Youngstown, $30,000; Union Stock Yards company, Dayton, $100,000; American Electrical company, Cleveland, $3,000; Riverside Oil company, Tiffin, $3,000; Birkemeyer Shoe Manufacturing company, Cincinnati, increase from $10,000 to $20,000.

Death of Ex-Governor Stone.

Holly Springs, Miss., March 26.—Hon. J. M. Stone, for 10 years governor of Mississippi, died after a short illness of erysipelas. At the time of his death Mr. Stone was president of the Starkville Agricultural and Mechanical college.

Suicide of Mrs. Kleimer.

New York, March 26.—Mrs. T. L. Kleimer, widow of a Cincinnati brewer, committed suicide during the night at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Anton Schwartz, by inhaling gas. She had been despondent for several days.

Flour Mill Burned.

Lawrence, Kan., March 26.—The lumber yard and four large warehouses of C. G. Ayres & Company and three dwelling houses were destroyed by fire. The total loss amounts to $23,000. The lumber company carried $13,000 insurance. The fire is attributed to incendiarism.

Hastings, Neb., March 26.—In the trial of Viola Horlocker, charged with sending poisoned candy to Mrs. Morey only three witnesses were heard. One was the sister of the accused, who testified as to the disturbed mental condition of the defendant during the holidays of 1898. Dr. Cooke was the only important witness. He testified that the defendant was afflicted with a diseased mind, and gave it as his professional opinion that if she sent the poison she was insane when she did it.

THE PROLONGED HALT

At Bloemfontein of Field Marshal Roberts Is Explained.

DON'T FEEL TOO SURE OF HIS LINE

Recent Investigations Show That There is Need of Exercising Caution In Dealing With So-Called Loyal Persons.

London, March 26.—The continued absence of aggressive movement on the part of the British is best explained in a dispatch from Bloemfontein.

It says the conditions existing in the occupied territory render imperative the somewhat prolonged halt at Bloemfontein. It is necessary that the effect of the proclamation should have time to make itself felt. It is declared that danger of annoyance to the line of communication may be apprehended unless the territory behind the advancing forces is rendered absolutely secure. The accuracy of this view is proved by the fact of the enemy's breaking up into isolated groups, such as that which attacked the guards' officers Friday. The adjustment of financial and municipal matters in the Free State is now chiefly occupying the attention of the governor and his legal and financial advisers. The military regime is being conducted with great smoothness, but recent investigations show that caution must be exercised in dealing with persons apparently loyal.

This summary is probably an accurate explanation of the frequent appearance and disappearance of Boers and insurgents, upon which the reports are so conflicting and which so puzzle the British military critics. General Methuen appears to be awaiting transportation and with Colonel Plumer's forces on half rations there now seems little likelihood of the immediate relief of Mafeking, though not from this quarter, nor from Lord Roberts or General Buller, is there any direct news.

The government buildings at Cape Town narrowly escaped destruction by fire. The state papers, after being much damaged, were removed.

A Lorenzo Marques special says the Transvaal authorities are evidently recruiting actively, and large numbers of French, Dutch and Belgian volunteers are constantly passing through that place to join the Boer forces.

Returned to Work.

Chicago, March 26.—Over 100 striking machinists, formerly employed by the Seamans & Halske company, returned to work for that corporation, their demands for a 9-hour workday and a minimum scale of wages having been granted. The firm, however, refused to recognize the business agent, otherwise known as the walking delegate, and negotiations were conducted through a shop committee, which will hereafter negotiate with the management in place of the business agent. All difficulties that may hereafter arise will be referred to arbitration for settlement. The settlement of the strike is looked upon in the nature of a compromise, though both sides claim a victory. Labor leaders claim that negotiations are being conducted with other shops for the return to work of the striking machinists under similar conditions. Efforts of several other machinery manufacturers to open their shops met with failure, as no men appeared for work in response to advertisements.

Fast Train Wrecked.

Atlanta, March 26.—The fast mail on the Atlanta and West Point railway, which left Atlanta for Montgomery and New Orleans, was wrecked between West Point and Opellka, Ala. Express Messenger Oslin was killed and Bagagemaster W. B. Blunt badly injured. The baggage car, mail coach and two day coaches were thrown from the track, but the Washington sleeper was not derailed. Private information reports the death of Bagagemaster Blunt and the injury of a number of people, but President Smith of the West Point road says that he is advised up to this time of but one death and one injury. A special train of surgeons was sent from Montgomery to the wreck.

Hastings, Neb., March 26.—In the trial of Viola Horlocker, charged with sending poisoned candy to Mrs. Morey only three witnesses were heard. One was the sister of the accused, who testified as to the disturbed mental condition of the defendant during the holidays of 1898. Dr. Cooke was the only important witness. He testified that the defendant was afflicted with a diseased mind, and gave it as his professional opinion that if she sent the poison she was insane when she did it.

Horse Thief Killed.

Arkansas City, Kan., March 26.—A report has been received from the Osage nation that deputy marshals have killed Richard Wilson and fatally wounded John Rush, alleged horse-thieves. Wilson escaped from the Kansas penitentiary last July.

MAJOR KIRKMAN

In Being Courtmartialed For Insulting Archbishop Chappelle.

New York, March 26.—In a letter written by an army officer in Manila to his parents in Brooklyn, he says that Major Kirkman, United States volunteers, captain of regulars, has been courtmartialed for an alleged insult to Archbishop Chappelle, papal legate to the Philippines, during a voyage from San Francisco to Manila. The letter says:

"En route to Manila, Archbishop Chappelle was insulted by Major Kirkman, who is in command of the transport. The major hung his blanket to be aired so that it covered the window of the archbishop's state room. Archbishop Chappelle sent his clerical assistant to the major to complain that he was unable to air his state room. Major Kirkman replied that he did not care whether the state room was aired or not. The archbishop endured the insult throughout the trip. When the transport arrived at Manila bay General Otis sent his staff officer out to meet it in a launch. The officer went on board and invited the archbishop to proceed by launch to the city. This precedence astounded Kirkman, who had not been aware that the duties of the archbishop were official."

Disposed With Criticism.

Washington, March 26.—Democratic leaders are displeased with the criticism of the anti-trust plank in the Democratic platform adopted recently at Lincoln, Neb. They say that the complaints that it is indefinite are absurd. Senator Jones of Arkansas, chairman of the national committee, in speaking of the criticism that the plank proposed no remedy for the so-called trust evil, said: "That complaint is nonsense. The people who make it seem to think that it is the duty of conventions to frame bills. The platform is not supposed to contain statutes or to draft legislation, and if it ever does so it goes beyond its function. A platform approves or condemns policies. The anti-trust plank in this platform puts the party which adopted it on record as opposed to trusts, and in favor of action against them. It is sufficient. The legislation to carry out its demands is a matter not for the platform makers, but for congress."

Satolli's New Job.

Philadelphia, March 26.—A morning paper says that private advices have been received by a prominent Roman Catholic clergyman here from a high authority in Rome stating that Cardinal Satolli, formerly delegate to this country, will shortly succeed the famous Cardinal Ledochowski, as prefect of the congregation for the propagation of the faith. Cardinal Ledochowski has been mentioned as a possible successor of Pope Leo XIII. The congregation for the propagation of the faith is a branch of the church's government dealing with ecclesiastical questions in all missionary countries. Cardinal Satolli is widely known in this country, having resided in Washington for several years, and it is surmised that his selection is due to his knowledge of the church's condition here.

Sacrifice of Lives.

Harrisburg, Pa., March 26.—The annual report of James Roderick, chief of the state bureau of mines and mining, contains a chapter dealing with mine accidents and their causes. In the 30 years from 1870 to 1899, the report states, 9,575 lives were lost in and about the anthracite coal mines of Pennsylvania. In commenting upon the fatalities, Chief Roderick says: It is generally conceded that the anthracite law of this state is the best mining law in the world. Therefore, in my opinion, the loss of life is not due to any defect in the law; neither is it the fault of the mine inspectors, who are an intelligent and hardworking body of men. I claim that the mine law has been the means of greatly reducing the number of accidents in the anthracite mines.

Assaulted His Wife.

Owosso, Mich., March 26.—Charles Scott, a boilermaker employed in the Ann Arbor railroad ear shops, broke into the home of his wife, from whom he had been separated, and furiously assaulted Mrs. Scott and her mother with a heavy chisel. He then drew a revolver and killed himself. Mrs. Scott is fatally and her mother, Mrs. Letitia Ferguson, seriously injured. Scott gained entrance through a cellar window and yelling, "I've got you at last," he rained blows with the chisel upon his wife's head and face gashing her terribly.

Horse Thief Killed.

Arkansas City, Kan., March 26.—A report has been received from the Osage nation that deputy marshals have killed Richard Wilson and fatally wounded John Rush, alleged horse-thieves. Wilson escaped from the Kansas penitentiary last July.

POLICY OF CRIMINALS

Prevailed In Shoshone In Opinion of Governor Stoenenberg.

NO REAL LABOR ORGANIZATIONS.

When Asked to Specify the Criminals, the Witness Said He Did Not Care to Give Any of the Person's Names.

Washington, March 26.—Governor Steonenberg's cross-examination continued in the Couer d'Alene investigation before the house committee on military affairs. Representative Sulzer of New York directed the cross-examination, inquiring how the governor justified the continuance of martial law.

The witness said there had been a continuous state of rebellion in the Couer d'Alene district, and while it did not take on the form of armed resistance there was at all times opposition to the policy of the state authorities, an effort to thwart them, and to bring a renewal of the old condition of affairs.

Mr. Sulzer pressed for a specification of names and events in this disorder, but the governor said it was general in character, and specific outbreaks were not likely to occur while the authorities continued to act with firmness. The governor said he was not in favor of solitary confinement of prisoners unless they were guilty of some infraction of prison rules. If such imprisonment had occurred, he said he was responsible for it, although he did not favor it except on the conditions stated.

When asked if he had conferred with the Bunker Hill mine officials and others with a view to breaking up the labor organizations, the governor said he had not. He added, that in his judgment the labor organizations in Shoshone county existed only in name, the real policy being "dominated by criminals."

When asked to specify the so-called criminals, the governor said he did not care to give names. Governor Steonenberg was asked why he did not resort to the posse comitatus, calling on citizens to aid the sheriff in maintaining order. He said he did not believe the ordinary civil procedure was sufficient to deal with the situation. He was confronted with a crisis, he said, and had acted to the best of his ability and judgment to meet the crisis, although it was possible, answered Mr. Sulzer, that he might have erred.

To Check Bank Officials.

Washington, March 26.—Chairman Brosius of the house committee on banking and currency submitted the report on the bill to give greater safety to national banks by restricting the making of loans and overdrafts to bank officers. The report says: "This bill proposes the only possible remedy for an evil of long standing in our banking system, an evil which is largely responsible for the chief blemish upon an otherwise most admirable system. From the establishment of the national banking system in 1863 to Oct. 31, 1896, 330 national banks failed. The failure in the case of 52 of these banks as reported was caused in part at least by excessive loans to officers and directors, while 93 of them were wrecked by the defalcation of officers and fraudulent management, a total in the two classes of 145, or about 44 per cent of the total. The present comptroller recommends legislation prohibiting loans to officers and employees of banks except upon application to and approval by the board of directors, and he adds: 'Such prohibition should be made to include directors.'"

Gillmore at Washington.

Washington, March 26.—Lieutenant Commander James C. Gillmore reported at the navy department. He is on leave of absence, but came to the department to take his examination for promotion to lieutenant commander. The officer, who is looking remarkably well, was greeted with enthusiasm by his old friends in the department, and was warmly welcomed by Secretary Long, who insisted upon learning something of the vicissitudes through which he passed during the nine months of captivity in the hands of the Filipinos. It is probable the officer will be detailed for duty in Washington.

Washington, March 26.—The life-saving service has received word that the Norwegian steamship Vidar of Frederickshald, Captain Sorenson, from New York to Norfolk in ballast, went ashore shortly after midnight at Damneck Mills, 10 miles south of Cape Henry, Va. The life-saving crew have established connection with the vessel. The crew of 18 men are safe.

The efforts of Republicans to belittle the testimony of Wharton Golden against the persons charged as accessories to the murder of Goebel are amusing. They now say Attorney Campbell has "hypnotized" Golden, that Golden has been bribed, and that he is unworthy of belief. He was all right, however, until he confessed.

Hann's a Republican prophecy from the Chicago Times-Herald: "If Congress and the President persist in their present course, nothing can save the Republican party from defeat next November. It will surely cost them the House of Representatives, and it may cost them the Presidency." Boss Hanna is running the "machine" and he shows no sign of slowing up.

BURKE COOKRAN says: "Between the civilizing expansion of Jefferson and the brutal imperialism of McKinley there is a difference as great—well, as great as the difference between the two men. There is no Democrat that opposes imperialism as McKinley seeks to introduce it who would not support expansion as Jefferson inaugurated it." Now will our Republican friends be good?

BILL TO PAY CAMPAIGN CONTRIBUTOR.

The Hanna-Payne-Frye ship subsidy bill was drawn, says a writer, to confer a prodigious financial favor on the Standard Oil trust, which, as the chief owner of fast lines of American steamships, ships which can readily be brought under the American flag, and which would most profit by the subsidies proposed. For its twenty-eight tank steamers which carry its oil and nothing else this trust would get, in the twenty years for which the subsidy was to run, $11,100,612.80—a pure gift. The so-called American line of passenger steamers—owned by Standard Oil and the Pennsylvania railroad—would it is claimed get $2,534,691 a year, or over $50,000,000 in twenty years, without a new ship being built. That is encouraging American shipping with a vengeance, but where the incentive to build new ships comes in when such rich subsidies can be earned by old ones does not clearly appear.

Nobody has ever been able to figure out what this measure for the fattening of the trusts will cost the people—or if its promoters know they will not tell. From $5,000,000 to $50,000,000 a year is a pretty wide margin, but the estimates of the experts fall in pretty much all between these limits.

Nor has anybody been able to demonstrate that it would in any degree help to restore American shipping to its former preeminence on the high seas. On the contrary, it is perfectly clear that the subsidized vessels would quickly drive all unsubsidized craft out of business, or to the treasury in search of subsidies for themselves. The effect in the end would be that the only American ships plying the ocean would be those paid for their work by the Government. Why the nation should pay ship owners for carrying freight is no more clear than why it should pay farmers to raise the freight to be carried.

The Hanna-Payne-Frye subsidy bill is a plain, prodigious robbery of the people by the Republican party, declares the writer in question, for the benefit of the chief contributors to the Republican campaign fund.

KEHOE FOR CONGRESS.

Call From Harrison County For Mason's Favorite to Enter the Race—Appreciate His Worth and Ability.

[Cynthiana Democrat.]

Mr. J. N. Kehoe, of Maysville, has not so far as we have yet seen, decided to enter the race for the Democratic nomination for Congress in this district. There seems to be a general feeling, however, that Mr. Kehoe should allow his friends to present his name. During the last campaign there was no more earnest and enthusiastic supporter of the Democratic ticket, and certainly no one in the district did more effective work on the stump. The people of Harrison County, especially, learned to know and appreciate Mr. Kehoe's worth and ability, and should he become a candidate for the nomination he would doubtless have a large following here. Our people admired Mr. Kehoe's attitude during the Williams-Pugh campaign. It is no disengagement of any other candidate to say these things. It is simply a testimonial due Mason's distinguished son.

OUTLOOK FOR FRUIT.

Fall and Winter Have Been Favorable in This State and Present Prospect Fine, Except for Peaches.

[Lexington Herald.]

At the request of the Herald, Mr. H. F. Hillenmeyer, the wizard of the Kentucky vine and plant and tree, prepared the following sketch of the fruit outlook in this State for the coming season:

The fall and winter have been in every way favorable to the fruit interests of Kentucky. The weather was not severely cold, the winds never very high nor long continued, and the earth never dry nor deeply frozen.

Fruit buds are formed in the fall and the conditions then prevailing largely determine their virility and number. The fall of 1899 was so dry that all trees are well ripened and furnished with flower buds, but it was not so dry that their perfect development was in the least impaired. It thus follows that fruit, forest and ornamental trees and shrubs will bloom very full this spring.

The apple is the great staple fruit of Kentucky. This tree blooms every year, but after a full crop most varieties, though white with flower, will not set fruit. The crop having been quite a light one last year is apt to be followed by one of great abundance. The pear follows the same law.

Stone fruits will bear year after year, but the failure last year permitted a more vigorous growth and those are in the best condition to do their best. Plums and cherries are yet in perfect condition, but the many very warm days in January induced development in peach buds and the severe cold of February 17th did serious injury.

Their measure of endurance is about 12 below zero, but between the diminished capability of resistance by reason of the previous warm weather, and their saturation by the rain and snow of the day previous, a temperature of 6 below depleted the crop. The failure, however, will not be as last year, and many sheltered and favored places may have abundant crops.

Grape vines were never in better condition, and the vine may ever be relied on to yield in fullest measure its clusters of pink, of purple or of gold. Strawberries and raspberries are not so promising. Those are native denizens of clearings in the woodland and cannot endure the glint of the autumn sun save with some protection, or at least a fair measure of rain. The plants are not in the main sufficiently vigorous to ensure a uniformly nice crop, but those who had deeply prepared land and gave perfect cultivation will be well rewarded.

The blackberry is the poor man's fruit, and the promise is that this year it will be in evidence, as the strawberry was last. The intense cold of February, 1899, froze the cane to the ground, and hardly a berry was offered in our market. But now they stand in lusty vigor, and thousands of Kentucky children, to whom the joy of other fruit gathering is unknown, will ramble over the waste fields and shaded ravines, filled with the happiness born only of such occupation. But while every indication points to a cornucopian year, it is well to remember that all the fruits will have different requirements from now until ripe, and it is out of reason to expect these differences to be reconciled to the peculiar wants of each. In a life devoted to fruit growing, not a year is remembered when all did their best. What vicissitudes will sweep away this or that fruit can, of course, not be seen. Cold rains, cloudy days at blooming time, injure all fruits. Such conditions just after the falling of the blossom lay the foundation for fungus trouble later on. Copious rain and muggy weather in June start rot in grapes and plums.

But untimely frost is most of all to be feared. This may be expected until the middle of May. The most disastrous frost fell on May 12, 1862, as likewise on May 1, 1852. At mid-April, 1875, and 1881, the fruit and even many trees were killed. In 1894, after the most charming March in mind, on the 25th, 26th and 27th of that month there was excellent skating. The year after, on May 12, and for a week after, sharp frosts fell every night, but the fruit not killed by the intense cold of February 8 pulled through in safety, the trees being covered with leaves. The present prospects and the weather now are as made to order, but it will not be wise to shoot for some time yet.

Goebel Started Pennyless.

[Cynthiana Democrat.]

Mr. Claude Desha tells an interesting story about the late lamented Gov. Goebel. They were together at the Capital Hotel, and Mr. Goebel spoke as follows: "I started in life without a dollar. I sold papers when my feet were almost on the ground, and it wasn't summer either. I stared poverty in the face and overcame it. I have helped my brothers and my sisters to positions of independence, and I have buried my dear old mother and father. I have had a good many difficulties to conquer, and it has been my observation that this matter of achievement is more of the will than of the brain."

Opening Display of Imported and Domestic Novelties,

Friday and Saturday, March 30, 31.

Owing to restricted space for showing our Dress Goods we have decided to make all else subservient to its proper display and for two days convert our store into a mirror of the fabric styles for the spring of 1900. We have never had such beautiful and high-class novelties as this season and we are desirous to do them the justice of a proper display. Wednesday and Thursday our store will be on dress parade and we cordially invite the ladies of Maysville and its vicinity to enjoy the exhibit. Because you come to look there is no obligation to purchase. We invite you to see not to buy. If you are interested in beautiful Dress Goods, exquisite silks, handsome trimmings, all the paraphernalia of an up-to-date woman's costume, don't fail to come.

Dr. Jim Scudder's Prescription.

[Terre Haute Express.]

Doctor James A. Scudder was recently elected Chairman of the Sick Committee of Post G, and entered diligently upon the discharge of his official duties last Monday morning. He was observed by the writer examining members of the post for any signs of disease. He reported them generally in excellent condition, with normal pulse and good digestion.

The doctor says in Kentucky where he was brought up there is in use a remedy which is almost a specific in all forms of disease, being used there for everything from warts to bone spavin, but being especially efficient for "that tired feeling" which at times attacks almost all drummers. This panacea, which the doctor highly recommends, is distilled from maize, or Indian corn. It is called by scientists spiritus frumenti, but is known in Kentucky by the name of mountain dew. The doctor says it is best administered with a small quantity of sugar and hot water, but not too much water.

Old Age.

Old age as it comes in the orderly process of Nature is a beautiful and majestic thing. The very shadow of eclipse which threatens it makes it the more prized. It stands for experience, knowledge, wisdom and counsel. That is old age as it should be. But old age as it so often means nothing but a second childhood of mind and body. What makes the difference? Very largely the care of the stomach. In youth and the full strength of manhood it doesn't seem to matter how we treat the stomach. We abuse it, overwork it, injure it. We don't suffer from it much. But when age comes the stomach is worn out. It can't prepare and distribute the needed nourishment to the body, and the body, unnnourished, falls into semic decay. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a wonderful medicine for old people whose stomachs are "weak" and whose digestions are "poor." Its invigorating effects are felt by mind as well as body. It takes the sting from old age and makes old people strong.

To-night.

How few things interest a person who has attended theatres for years. It is true that many good plays are seen, and many fine performers are in the cast, yet it's largely the same thing over and over again and again. Col. Dan R. Robinson, who personally manages "Dewey, the Hero of Manila," company that appears at the Washington Opera House to-night, has a play with scenery complete that will interest you. Not only is the story intelligently told by twenty-two players, but the event of the American-Spanish war makes the possibility of a new drama, new situations, new dialog and new scenery. By all means do not fail to see the only new drama of to-day. Prices 25, 35 and 50 cents.

Political Assassination.

[New Orleans Picayune.]

The murder of Goebel was not only a most dastardly assassination of a prominent citizen, but it was done by Republican politicians in an effort to retain control of the State of Kentucky. * * * It will be a great gain for justice if the perpetrators of the great crime in Kentucky can be brought to justice.

Cold Steel or Death.

"There is but one small chance to save your life and that is through an operation," was the awful prospect set before Mrs. I. B. Hunt, of Lime Ridge, Wis., by her doctor after vainly trying to cure her of a frightful case of stomach trouble and yellow jaundice. He didn't count on the marvelous power of Electric Bitters to cure stomach and liver troubles, but she heard of it, took seven bottles, was wholly cured, avoided surgeon's knife, now weighs more and feels better than ever. It's positively guaranteed to cure stomach, liver and kidney troubles and never disappoints. Price 50c., at J. Jas. Wood & Son's drug store.

COURTING IN LUZON.

Lieutenant Harry Murray of the Seventeenth Infantry writes interestingly of some of the customs of the Filipinos.

Lieutenant Harry Murray of the Seventeenth Infantry, who has a number of friends in Maysville, writes an interesting letter concerning courtship and marriage in the Philippines. His regiment has been in that country for several months. His letter is as follows:

SAN FERNANDO, P. I.

Dear Editor: If you will allow me room in your columns I will give some items of interest to the young ladies and gentlemen who find time to read it. I remember that while I was in Ronceverte I was very fond of the young ladies, and often went courting, and of course was under the impression that our way of courting was the only way. But since I came to these islands I have learned that there are other ways besides ours, and I feel it my duty to help the good cause along; therefore, I will give the reader a tip as to how it is carried on here.

There is but little romance among the Moros in their courtship and marriage. No boat rides or evening strolls 'neath shady groves, or anything of that sort; they believe in business, first, last and all the time. The father of the bride is given a bonus (a certain stipulated price) to make valid the bargain, generally in canibocas, vintas and other articles, but very seldom money. The wishes of the bride are of no moment whatever, as the women are considered merely instruments of pleasure.

After the contract is arranged, preparations for the marriage are commenced. The pandita places the contracting parties in two different houses, where they adorn themselves by shaving their eyebrows, varnish their faces with a certain paste of rice to appear better looking, and otherwise beautify themselves.

If the lady has been lax concerning her notions of the moral code, a certain number of lashes administered by the pandita restores her in the eyes of the people and future husband to her original purity and goodness.

The following day the groom, accompanied by the pandita and those that are to assist in the ceremony, march with great display, noise and mirth, to the agun and drum, to the house of the bride, where she is supposed to hide herself. When the pandita gets there he asks the groom three times in a loud voice if he wants to take as his wife the one who is hid there, to which he replies in the affirmative. The groom then seizes the house for the bride, who, upon being discovered, runs out and down the street, on each side of which is a great crowd of people, yelling and making as much disturbance as possible. Upon being captured by the groom, the bride is taken back to the house, where the pandita places them on a mat in the center of the floor, takes the right hand of the groom, turns him around three times, and at the last turn places the right hand of the groom on the forehead of the bride, and the marriage is completed. If the parties are people of some means, a feast generally follows, and the eating of the so-called galitilas (their favorite dish) and other pastries which include rice, eggs, flour, sweet potatoes, coconuts and sugar in which they take delight, but in which cleanliness forms no essential feature. After the marriage the bride commences to use huyo and they happily forever afterwards.

Now, if any of the young men who read this try the plan and are successful, tell me of it when I get back.

There are a great many different tribes of people on this island (Luzon) and they all have different languages, but Spanish is mostly spoken among the intelligent class.

There is another way of courting which is very popular among another tribe of people who inhabit this island. No doubt many of the young men who read it will be in favor of adopting it in West Virginia. In this particular province, when a young man sees a young lady he admires very much he reports the fact to his father, and if the old man approves of it he visits the young lady's parents and arranges for a courtship. After this is done the young man goes to the young lady's home and lives for three months. If at the end of three months the two lovers have gotten along nicely, and have had no cross words, arrangements are made for the marriage. These people live together happily also, and think a great deal of their children, while many other tribes are just the reverse, and when married use their wives as mere slaves.

Now, if some of the young men of Ronceverte who, like myself, have been unsuccessful in their courtship, will adopt this Filipino custom, perhaps they may meet with success. Yours truly,

HARRY MURRAY.

CORN OIL

May Become Another Substitute for the Costly Olive Oil.

[New York Evening Post.]

A rival of cottonseed oil, as a substitute for olive oil, is promised in corn oil. This is one of the by-products of corn. On every kernel of this grain there is a little fleck of yellow, known by the experts as the "germ." Before corn may be shipped for export this germ must be removed, else rancidity is almost certain to set in, and the cargo is in danger of being destroyed. The process for the removal of this germ is known as degerning, and its prosecution results in the production of an oleaginous substance, the only use for which hitherto was as a substitute for linseed oil in the manufacture of paints and for lubricating purposes.

Efforts have been made from time to time to utilize it as foodstuff, but failure to deprive it of its unpalatable qualities has rendered these futile. It is now announced in the West, however, that a process has been devised which is warranted to clarify, deodorize and make palatable this corn oil without material loss, and at the inconsequential cost of 10 cents a gallon. There are now 5,000,000 gallons of crude oil turned out annually from the American mills, and it has only been in connection with corn shipped for export that the degerning process has been used. The quantity may be increased indefinitely. Experimenting chemists are quoted by the Chicago papers as claiming that the corn oil is far more digestible than any of the oils now used for culinary purposes.

Nevertheless, it will probably macerate on the market as olive oil.

Now, if any of the young men who read this try the plan and are successful, tell me of it when I get back.

There are a great many different tribes of people on this island (Luzon) and they all have different languages, but Spanish is mostly spoken among the intelligent class.
